It has been borne in upon me that one of the difficulties which lie in the way of the Domestic basins becoming more popular has been the provision in the Hire-purchase rules requiring applicants to make an initial deposit of Rs.200. In a majority of cases, the applicants have not been able to find this amount. I think that as a more attractive arrangement Domestic basins may be hired out at Rs.10/- or Rs.15/- a month, the basins becoming the property of the hirers at the end of 5 years. The suggestion may be kindly examined.

7 The Director states that a sum of Rs. 2500/- would be required as working capital to work a domestic unit of 5 basins and that a deposit of Rs. 200/- would not be too much for a man who can afford to spend Rs. 2500/-. He also says that if the rule requiring an initial deposit be waived, a portion of the loan ^{may} ~~will~~ have to be written off in case of default. On the above grounds, he is against any change in the rule.
If it is intended to meet any loss due to default, the Dir. recommends that the basins may be sold for monthly payments of Rs. 11-8-6 for a five unit basin & Rs. 5-12-3 for

Ref. Sale of "domestic units" to agriculturists on the hire purchase system.

The only difficulty in waiving the initial deposit of $\frac{1}{3}$ of the cost of the unit is that in the case of default Govt. would be a loser. The Director S.C. thinks that generally this does not work as a hardship. Perhaps the Dewan's suggestion may be tried only in cases where it is found to be so.

9 The initial deposit may be waived. Loss from depreciation will be negligible, and there is no doubt that the condition as to initial deposit is an obstacle to popularisation. The Dir's proposal to sell 5 unit basis on the hire purchase system for ⁶⁰ monthly payments of Rs 11-8-6 ^{each} and single basis for ²⁴ monthly payments of Rs 5-12-3 each ~~and the principle of 5 years may be~~ applied. The hire purchase terms sufficiently safeguard the interests of Govt.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. D. 7391/Seri. 84-28 of the 21st instant suggesting the desirability of not requiring from the purchasers of Domestic Basins one-third of the initial cost of the plant as preliminary deposit and proposing that a monthly hire of Rs 10/- or Rs 15/- may be collected from the hirers for a definite period, I have the honor to state that at present a five basin ^{unit} is sold on the hire-purchase system for Rs 600/- and a single basin unit for Rs 130/-. One-third of the preliminary purchase money is required to be paid in advance in order to ensure that the Government loan would be fully realised by the sale of the plant minus depreciation, if the borrower should fail to pay the amount loaned to him. I may also state that a working capital of at least Rs 2,500/- for a reeler who proposes to put up a five basin unit and at ^{least} Rs 500/- for a reeler who intends to set up a single basin ~~will~~ be required. I do not therefore think that it is beyond the means of such a reeler to deposit one-third of the amount that is now required under the rules. If however Government are inclined to waive the ~~the~~ ~~deposit~~ deposit, it must be understood that in cases of default a ~~good~~ part of the loan will have to be written off in view of the fact that the plant will have depreciated while in use with the reeler. If Government are prepared to meet any loss due to default in cases referred to above, I would suggest that a five basin unit may be sold to reelers on the hire purchase system on the understanding that a sum of Rs 11-8-6 per month should be paid for a period of 5 years. The reeler will have paid in all Rs 725/- at the end of the period which will be equivalent

Correspondence ending with letter No. D. 4-1884-27, dated 23rd January 1929, from the Director of Industries and Commerce, submitting his report on the suggestion whether the rule requiring applicants for the purchase of domestic units to make an initial deposit of Rs. 200 may not be relaxed, etc.

ORDER NO. D. 8389-90—SERI. 84-28-3, DATED 18TH FEBRUARY 1929.

It has been brought to the notice of Government that the rule requiring purchasers of domestic basins to deposit one-third of the cost of the plant under the hire-purchase rules is a hindrance to the popularisation of these basins as in a majority of cases the applicants find it difficult to secure this amount.
